
PCA was computed on standardized candidate predictors after excluding identifier, target-source, target-label and data-quality columns. The target was used only for coloring. X markers indicate class centroids.